Job Creation Tax Credit
Annual Report

Development

John R. Kasich, Governor

Christiane Schmenk, Director

June 21, 2012

Dear Governor Kasich, President Niehaus, and Speaker Batchelder:

On behalf of the members of the Ohio Tax Credit Authority, I am pleased to present the Job Creation Tax Credit Program Annual Report for calendar year 2010. Pursuant to the Ohio Revised Code Section 122.17(L), the Office of Strategic Business Investments in the Ohio Department of Development's Office of Strategic Business Investment prepares this annual report containing the following: (1) various data analyses conducted of tax credit activity since the program's inception in 1993; (2) a listing and description of all tax credit projects approved by the Tax Credit Authority during 2010; (3) a report detailing the status of all projects which have a fully executed agreement; and (4) a report describing all projects that the Tax Credit Authority took enforcement action upon during calendar year 2010.

The Tax Credit Authority operates as a statutorily created board and is comprised of five members, including those appointed by the Governor, the President of the Ohio Senate, and the Speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives. With the assistance of the Ohio Department of Development's professional staff, the Ohio Tax Credit Authority reviews and makes determinations on applications for Job Creation Tax Credit program assistance submitted by companies proposing to create net, new jobs in the state. Once a proposed project is determined eligible for tax credits, the Tax Credit Authority may award benefit levels contingent upon the scope of that project. Participating companies can generally receive refundable tax credits of up to 75 percent of Ohio income taxes withheld from eligible new employees for a term of up to 15 years.

As evidenced by this report, the Job Creation Tax Credit program has distributed refundable tax credit assistance to a substantial number of business expansion and new location projects in Ohio. As of December 31, 2010, 2,240 economic development projects have received approval for tax credit assistance, of which 622 remain active and within the tax credit term. In 2010, the Tax Credit Authority approved 180 projects, securing commitments from companies to create a total of 15,370 new jobs and retain 20,716 positions in the State of Ohio.

When H.B. 1 passed in 2009, the Job Creation Tax Credit program underwent significant changes to the way it would be administered, with the qualification focus shifting from a job creation number value to a payroll threshold. These changes went into effect October 17, 2009, and 2010 was the first full year the Ohio Tax Credit Authority considered projects under the new parameters. These new standards have further increased Ohio's competitiveness to attract and retain businesses.

In addition to its unique, refundable nature, the Job Creation Tax Credit program is significant for its ability to protect the state's investment in business start-up and expansion activities. Given that it is a performance-based program, tax credit agreements are often modified by the Ohio Tax Credit Authority if the projects fail to materialize or comply with programmatic guidelines. These modifications may include: the reduction of the rate and/or term of the tax credit, cancellation, termination, or termination with a clawback of previously issued tax credit amounts.

The data and analyses contained in this report illustrate the substantial impact of the Job Creation Tax Credit program on spurring job growth in the state during 2010. As you review the details of the report, I believe the significant economic impact of the program and its reach across the state will become evident.

Sincerely,

Christiane Schmenk
Director

Executive Summary

The Job Creation Tax Credit (JCTC) program serves as one of the State of Ohio's flagship economic development programs for the creation of jobs. In 2010, the Ohio Tax Credit Authority (Authority), together with the Ohio Department of Development (Development) accomplished the following in the goal of retaining and attracting jobs to the State of Ohio:

1. The implementation of the reforms to the JCTC program created by H.B. 1 and made effective October 17, 2009. These changes include:
 - The tax credit is now considered and calculated on aggregate payroll withholding from new full-time equivalent employees.
 - The post-term reporting period has been reduced.
 - The annual progress reporting requirements have been simplified.
2. Calendar Year 2010 included a significant increase in projects approved from the previous calendar year. These increases include:
 - The number of new projects approved by the Authority totaled 180 projects, an increase of nearly 50 percent from the number approved in 2009 (121 projects).
 - The number of new, full-time jobs committed to for the projects totaled 15,370, an increase of 34 percent from the commitments in 2009.
 - The weighted average hourly wage commitment reached $21.20 per hour, a decrease of nearly 3 percent over last year's weighted average hourly wage.
3. After a project is approved by the Authority, the program staff at Development oversees the continued administration of the JCTC program. In 2010, results from the program included:
 - 137 businesses executed tax credit agreements with the Authority. These agreements included commitments to create at least 17,054 new full-time jobs and invest more than $1.8 billion in fixed assets at various project sites throughout the State of Ohio.
 - The Authority issued 539 tax credit certificates totaling more than $71 million to taxpayer participants in the program.
4. Projects are monitored through an annual report process to ensure compliance with the program's requirements and tax credit agreement commitments. Tax credit projects that are found to be in non-compliance are reviewed by the Authority, which may take action to modify the existing agreement. In 2010, these actions include:
 - The Authority took non-compliance action on a total of 117 projects.
 - Term benefits of 45 projects were modified by the Authority due to a failure to comply with the specified commitments in their agreements.
 - Full or partial payback was ordered of 15 companies of their previously issued tax credits, as they ceased operations at the project site.
5. For January 1, 2011 through June 30, 2011, the Authority has:
 - Approved 104 projects;
 - Received project commitments of 9,686 new jobs and 11,648 retained jobs; and
 - Received a committed fixed-asset investment of more than $797 million.

The JCTC program, one of the State of Ohio’s flagship economic development tools, completed its 18th year in 2010. The volume of program activity is best measured both by the total number of projects approved since the program’s inception in 1993 (2,240 through December 31, 2010), and the values of annual tax credits issued by the Authority to eligible taxpayers (more than $71 million in refundable tax credits issued in 2010 alone).

In 2010, the Authority approved 180 projects for assistance, a 48 percent increase from the number approved in 2009. Within these projects are commitments to create a total of 15,370 full-time jobs and retain 20,716 existing full-time positions. Additionally, more than $2.9 billion in new fixed-asset investment commitments were made in conjunction with these projects.

More new projects were approved in calendar year 2010 than in any other year during the program’s life. In fact, the 180 new projects approved in 2010 is the largest number by a significant amount, approximately 15 percent greater than the second largest new project approval value of 157. It is also important to note that during the life of the program, the volume of new annual approvals only exceeded 150 a total of three times; in 1995 (157), in 2000 (154), and in 2010 (180). The volume of project approvals per year is illustrated in Figure 1 below.

The aggregate new job commitment for the projects approved in calendar year 2010 illustrates that this year was also a noteworthy one for this category. The commitment level for new jobs increased from 11,438 in 2009 to 15,370 in 2010, representing a 34 percent increase. When comparing the 2010 new job value against the aggregate new job commitments from previous years, the 2010 level is the fourth largest commitment since the program began and the first time a new job commitment total has exceeded 15,000 since calendar year 2000. The aggregate new job commitments for each of the program's years are shown in Figure 2 below.

For the purpose of the JCTC program, “retained employees” is defined as the full-time employees in the project at the project location on the date the authority approves the project for a tax credit in a public meeting. The retained employees commitment made in conjunction with the projects approved in 2010 experienced a decrease of more than 37 percent when compared to the value reached in 2009; from 32,062 in 2009 to 20,716 in 2010. It is worth noting, however, that the retained employees commitment for 2009 was the largest annual commitment recorded during the program’s history. When looking at the commitments for retained positions over the life of the program, illustrated below in Figure 3, the average annual commitment calculates to 20,636 – a value that is very close to the amount committed in 2010. Therefore, while the 2010 commitment for total retained employees was significantly less than that made in the previous year, it was still in line with the program’s average annual value.

Fixed-asset investment commitments made, in conjunction with the approved projects for 2010, exceeded $2.9 billion, the third largest annual commitment in the history of the JCTC program and only the third time in the program’s history that the commitment has exceeded $2.5 billion annually. This amount represents a 198 percent increase over the commitment level in 2009, a significant increase. However, it is important to note that the 2010 commitment level is one of the program’s largest (third largest annual commitment) and the 2009 commitment level is one of the program’s smallest (second lowest annual committed amount). Therefore, the noteworthy fixed-asset investment commitment percent increase between those two years is reflected in that circumstance. Figure 4, shown below, details the total fixed-asset investment commitments over the life of the program.

The weighted average hourly wage rate is calculated by; (1) multiplying, for each approved project, the number of committed new jobs by the committed average hourly wage, (2) aggregating those calculated project values for the calendar year, and (3) dividing that aggregate number by the number of total annual new jobs committed for the year. Rather than just calculating a straight “average” (the wage rate per project divided by the number of projects), this weighted calculation gives more value to wages associated with a larger job creation commitment. In 2010, this weighted average hourly rate was calculated at $21.20, and represents a slight decrease from 2009’s calculated value of $22.14. Nonetheless, the value for 2010 is the second highest weighted average hourly wage since the program’s inception (second only to 2009’s value). Below, Figure 5 details the annual unadjusted weighted average hourly wage rate calculations over the life of the program.

As noted below in Table 2, the average number of new jobs committed per project in calendar year 2010 was down in comparison to previous years. Specifically, this calculated average is the second lowest since the program's inception, only exceeding the average from 1996. However, it is important to reiterate that calendar year 2010 had the largest number of projects approved by the Authority in the history of the program, and the fourth largest number of total new jobs committed for a given year. So, while it may appear that the "average" project was smaller than many of the previous years, there were far more total projects in 2010 and thus a larger overall aggregate new job commitment.

Information appearing below in Figure 6 denotes the distribution of projects approved for tax credits in calendar year 2010, according to the region in which the project is located. The 2010 map to the right* illustrates each region and delineates the counties located within the region. Region 1 (Central Ohio region) had the most projects approved by the Authority in 2010, with 24 percent (a total of 41 projects). By and large, when comparing 2010 approvals to the prior 10-year approval average, most regions saw a consistent proportion of approved projects. The only exception is Region 9 (Akron/Canton region), which experienced only half of its historical average approvals in 2010. It is also important to note that eight of the projects approved in 2010 were done so with a project site "to be determined." These eight projects are not included in the percentage calculations below.

*Please note this map represents the regions as they were configured at the time of issuance for the 2010 Job Creation Tax Credits.

The Authority convenes monthly to review and approve complete applications for proposed projects. These projects must meet minimum thresholds to be considered for approval, including a job creation requirement and a minimum payroll increase in association with new jobs. The Authority renders final determinations of proposed and existing projects. Please note that the Authority combines the November and December meetings into one, early December meeting.

Figure 7, appearing below, illustrates the monthly average of considered projects that were approved by the Authority. Specifically, the graph shows the number of projects approved by the Authority in calendar year 2010 by month with the average number of projects approved each month during the previous 16-year period.

During the 2010 meetings, the Authority exceeded its average activity in every month, but one. The January, March, and October 2010 meetings surpassed the previous years' average by 10 or more approvals. This figure once again illustrates what a significant year 2010 was for project approvals for the JCTC program.

The JCTC program is marked by a volume of activity including the preparation of projects for consideration by the Authority, the execution of tax credit agreements, the monitoring of annual progress reports, and the issuance of tax credit certificates. The portfolio of the program is in a constant state of flux, as new projects are included in the program, existing projects complete their tax credit terms or are aged out of the program as they complete their requirements, or projects are canceled or terminated from the program.

Table 3 illustrates the current status of projects that have been approved by the Authority since the inception of the JCTC program. The numbers represent the percentages of those projects which fall into the categories utilized in the administration of the program. They are defined as:

Active: The project has been approved by the Authority and is within its tax credit term period.

Reporting: The project has completed its tax credit term, is no longer receiving benefit, but is filing annual reports for the post-term period.

Completed: The project has completed all necessary reporting.

Canceled: The project has been removed from the program per the taxpayer's request. Note that in prior years this could occur at any time during the taxpayer's credit term but currently cancellations only occur prior to the execution of the Tax Credit Agreement.

Terminated Without Clawback: The project has been removed from the program by action of the Tax Credit Authority without seeking recovery from the taxpayer.

Terminated With Clawback: The project has been removed from the program by action of the Tax Credit Authority by seeking recovery from the taxpayer.

Given the age of the JCTC Program (18 years) and the length of tax credit terms (originally limited to 10 years. The program was changed in 2003 to allow terms as long as 15 years), the program is now experiencing a significant number of projects that are completing tax credit terms. In fact, all projects from calendar years 1993 through 1998 that are still "active" (i.e. not previously canceled or terminated) have completed their tax credit terms and are in the post-term reporting phase.

Another aspect demonstrated by this table is the significance the Authority places upon program compliance with taxpayers' project commitments. The program's level of attrition is strong evidence of the importance assigned by the Authority to its oversight function. The performance of each project is monitored on an annual basis through an annual progress report. Staff then performs a review on every submitted annual report to ensure project compliance. Those projects failing to attain their employment, wage, or investment commitment levels are subject to either an amendment of their tax credit rate and/or term (as discussed in Section E), or removal from the program. For those projects approved by the Authority since 1993, 24 percent have been canceled from the program and 25 percent of have been formally terminated by the Authority for failure to meet program and agreement commitments. It is important to note that approximately 20 percent of the aforementioned terminations included a clawback of some or all of the previously issued tax credit dollars.

In the analysis of the commitments made as part of the tax credit projects over the life of the program, the annual dollar values of the fixed-asset investment commitments and weighted average hourly wage rate commitments have been adjusted, using the consumer price index, to represent their value in 2010 dollars. By doing this, the annual aggregate commitments can be translated and compared by a single reference point to measure the true impact years of the program.

Figure 8 below depicts the fixed-asset commitments considered in 2010 dollars. When considering the annual totals, it can be determined that calendar year 2004 represents the largest annual aggregate commitment during the program’s 18-year lifespan. Looking at the fixed-asset commitments over the tenure of the program, it becomes evident that there is no consistent trend for investment level. The fixed-asset commitment for calendar year 2010, when compared to the other years’ converted values, is the sixth largest commitment made since the program’s inception in 1993.

In a review of the annual weighted average hourly wage rates over the last decade in 2010 dollars, illustrated below in Figure 9, a trend emerged. All of the rates but one calculated to more than $20 per hour (the lone exception, in 2008, calculated to $18.27). This examination demonstrates that the projects approved by the Ohio Tax Credit Authority in recent years have consistently included a commitment to provide a meaningful, livable wage for the new employment positions. In 2010, the annual weighted average hourly wage was calculated at $21.20, which is one of the higher annual commitments.

Weighted Committed Average Hourly Wage by Calendar Year (2010 dollars), 1993-2010

The JCTC program statute mandates participating taxpayers to annually report project information to Development, including the number of new employees and the income tax withholdings for those employees for the year. Complete annual reports must be submitted to Development by March 1st each year. The Development's Office of Strategic Business Investments' audit staff records and reviews the data provided. The total number and aggregate dollar amount of certificates issued in a year are dependent upon the number of properly filed annual reports. Annual report deficiencies and adjustments to project scopes may prohibit a certificate from being issued in the calendar year in which its report is filed. Therefore, the values for calendar year 2010 include certificates from multiple reporting years (both current and previous).

The tax credit is structured as a performance-based program, meaning that the tax credit certificate for a particular project is issued as long as the participating taxpayer (or taxpayers) associated with that project satisfies the commitment to create jobs and otherwise remains in good standing (i.e. remains at the project site, and remains in compliance with all other terms of the tax credit agreement).

The intent of any economic development incentive is to drive economic growth through job creation. Economic growth can be measured in two ways: (1) the number of jobs created and (2) the increased income tax revenue. Table 4 and Table 5, shown below, illustrate the increase in income tax revenue and net benefit to the state as a result of the program. Since 1995, the State of Ohio has realized more than $246.2 million in additional withholding revenue as a direct result of the JCTC program. In addition, once projects complete their tax credit period and enter into the "reporting" phase of the program, the state receives the full value of the commercial activity tax and withholdings generated as a result of the project.

An analysis of certificates issued during calendar year 2010 revealed a significant increase in the number of certificates issued from the previous year – roughly 180 more from 2009 (a 51 percent increase). In fact, from a volume perspective, the number of certificates issued in calendar year 2010 was second only to the number issued in calendar year 2008. The total value of issued certificates in 2010 also increased over 2009's amount, albeit at a more modest 9 percent rate. Finally, the average certificate value for calendar year 2010 experienced a decrease from the 2009 value by 28 percent.

Section B: Projects Approved by the Ohio Tax Credit Authority during Calendar Year 2010

The Authority and the staff within the Development are responsible for reviewing applications for tax credit assistance, analyzing project viability, and setting and determining tax credit benefit rates and terms. Care is taken in preparing projects for review given the long-term relationship to be forged between the Authority and participating taxpayers. Tax credits are awarded on the conditions that a taxpayer remain at its project location and report to Development for a period up to 18 years.

This section provides information based on those commitments. Actual performance is reported in later years following the execution of a tax credit contract between the Authority and each taxpayer. Additionally, a brief description and scope of work for each project approved in calendar year 2010 is provided.

It is important to note that these projects, and the issuance of tax credit certificates, will be managed by the new JCTC law and administrative rules that are a result of 2009's H.B. 1. The JCTC program now utilizes the establishment of gross payroll thresholds for new employment qualification, rather than the former new full-time employee average hourly wage threshold.

Economic benefits to the State of Ohio as a result of project approval activity in calendar year 2010 include the following:

- Approval by the Authority of tax credits for 181 projects;
- Planned fixed-asset investment of more than $2.9 billion in communities across the state; and
- Commitments to create 15,430 new positions within three years of project approval and retain 20,716 existing full-time positions.

Section C: Projects with Tax Credit Agreements Executed With the Ohio Tax Credit Authority during Calendar Year 2010

Pursuant to Ohio Revised Code 122.17(C), the Authority is authorized to enter into tax credit agreements with participating taxpayers, provided all of the following: (1) the taxpayer's project will create new jobs in the State of Ohio; (2) the taxpayer's project is economically sound; and (3) receipt of tax credit assistance is a major factor in the taxpayer's decision to go forward with its respective project.

This section includes information related to taxpayers that entered into tax credit agreements with the Authority during calendar year 2010. These executed agreements represent two populations: (1) taxpayers that are entering into their initial agreement, and (2) taxpayers that are executing new agreements due to amendments being made to their previous agreements.

Economic benefits to the state associated with projects whose tax credit agreements were fully executed during calendar year 2010 include the following:

- Commitments by taxpayers to undertake 137 economic development projects throughout the state;
- Taxpayer commitments to create 17,054 new jobs within three years of project approval by the Authority, and retain 21,016 full-time positions; and
- Fixed-asset commitments totaling more than $1.8 billion across the state.

Section D: Status of Projects with Executed Job Creation Tax Credit Agreements

Section D addresses the status of projects that have executed tax credit agreements with the Authority. Information provided pertains to all approved projects with tax credit agreements executed from 1993 through 2010.

The subsequent table denotes committed job creation, average hourly wage, and fixed-asset investment, the tax credit rate and term included in the original tax credit agreement, and the current status of each project (as of September 21, 2011 – the date the data was collected from the program’s active database). Note that the execution dates indicated for each of the projects denotes the most recent signature date for the agreement, and may represent either the original agreement or any subsequent agreement amendment executed between the parties.

The following status categories are included:

- Executed: The project is currently within its tax credit term, filing annual reports, and receiving benefits.
- Reporting: The project has completed its tax credit term and is no longer receiving benefit, but is being required to report for the post-term period.
- Closed: The project has met all program requirements and completed all necessary reporting.
- Termination without Clawback: The project was formally removed from the program by action of the Authority without financial recourse.
- Termination with Clawback: The project was formally removed from the program by action of the Authority with financial recourse.

The table also presents annual performance of each project. This performance data is obtained from the most recently submitted annual report. It is important to note that for projects that are closed or have been terminated, the presented annual report data may be several years old. Furthermore, some projects do not have annual report data as they have executed an agreement, but have not entered the reporting phase as their project’s tax credit start date is after December 31, 2010.

The data presented in this table shows the success of the JCTC in creating and retaining jobs. The program has been successful in assisting in the creation of more than 120,100 jobs and retention of more than 208,600 positions since the inception of the program. Moreover, it has leveraged more than $25.6 billion in fixed-asset investment.

Section E: Enforcement Actions Taken By the Tax Credit Authority in Calendar Year 2010 Against Projects Approved Between Calendar Year 1993 to 2010

This section contains information regarding enforcement actions taken by the Authority in calendar year 2010 against taxpayers that did not meet the requirements specified in their tax credit agreements. The information provided pertains to all projects approved between the years 1993 through 2010.

The Authority may consider four types of enforcement action for a taxpayer failing to comply with its JCTC agreement: (1) cancel the project, (2) amend the benefit of the tax credit by reducing the rate and/or term of the tax credit, (3) terminate the project without a clawback, or (4) terminate the project and certify to the Tax Commissioner the portion of tax credit to be refunded to the State of Ohio.

The action taken by the Authority is determined depending upon the non-compliance circumstance. Cancellations apply to projects without executed contracts that are being eliminated from the program (Note: in prior years, this term was also utilized for situations when the taxpayer wished to withdraw from the program or if a project fell below the minimum eligibility requirements). Amending the benefit level(s) and termination without clawback are actions taken against taxpayers with executed contracts that have failed to meet the commitments set forth in the tax credit agreement. The final action, termination with clawback, is taken against taxpayers that cease operations at their designated project site.

Pursuant to Ohio Revised Code 122.17(K), when a taxpayer ceases operations at its defined project location, the Authority will initiate a three step clawback process. The first step is to send notice to the taxpayer of pending termination with clawback. The second step is a "First Reading" at the Authority's monthly meeting. At this time, the Authority reviews the project and considers, among other factors, the effect of market conditions on the taxpayer's project and whether the taxpayer continues to maintain other operations in the State of Ohio. The taxpayer has an opportunity to present information to the Authority relevant to their project and circumstance at this meeting. The third procedural step, known as the "Second Reading," occurs at the Authority's subsequent monthly meeting, and includes a final determination on a clawback percentage to be applied to prior certificates issued to the taxpayer. Once the Authority has made a determination that a portion of the tax credit is to be refunded, they certify the amount to the Tax Commissioner by letter.

As illustrated in the following table, in 2010, the Authority implemented 117 enforcement actions against taxpayers participating in the JCTC program. Of these, 41 projects were canceled, 45 agreements had a reduction in rate and/or term of the JCTC, 16 agreements were terminated without clawback, and 15 agreements were terminated with a clawback provision. Overall, the Authority saw a reduction in its actions for calendar year 2010, with each of the following categories decreasing in volume when compared to the 2009 values: the total number of enforcements, total cancellations, total rate/term reductions, and total terminations without clawbacks. However, it is important to note that the number of terminations with clawbacks increased significantly from 2009 to 2010. In 2009, only four actions of this nature were taken, but in 2010 there were 15 of these actions taken – an increase of 275 percent. The average clawback was 27.9 percent, calculated from 14 of the actions (one action included a settlement payment negotiated between the Authority and the taxpayer). The clawback percentage for each individual action is listed in the subsequent table.
