STAY CONNECTED ON THE 2020 CENSUS.

With the Census constantly evolving, it can be hard to know the most up-to-date information. Make sure to stay connected both on Census.Ohio.Gov and through the official Census Bureau's press releases.

You can fill out your form online at 2020Census.Gov, or call the telephone line at 844-330-2020.

In light of the current health crisis, now is the time to take advantage of the ability to complete the Census online from home. We want all Ohioans to stay safe and get counted.

In mid-July, the Census Bureau's Mobile Questionnaire Assistance (MOA) program successfully launched. The program places Census personnel in areas with low-response rates to help the public with any questions regarding how to fill out the Census.

Locations of these MQAs will continue to update weekly based on different needs until September 18th. They will be going into high-contact areas, which means you could find them anywhere from local grocery stores to restaurants.

Since there are only a few more months to get people to respond to Census 2020, now is the time to find new ways to motivate Ohioans. Around 33% of Ohioans have still not completed their Census.

Fortunately, the 2020 Census Response Rate Challenge Toolkit recently added fresh resources for encouraging local communities to self-respond to the Census from home. Make sure to check out the Toolkit to see how you can track your specific community and strive to increase participation.

Reminder postcards went out to around 35 million households across the country in mid-July. Additionally, millions of emails have been sent to low-response areas (less than 50%) and will continue through September.

Starting July 30, Census takers began following up in select areas across the country that have not yet responded to the 2020 Census; this includes Mansfield, Ohio. All other non-responding households should expect visits beginning in mid-August.
